

January 23 2012

Au Revoir, Crazy European Chick

Author:

Joe Schreiber

Reading Level: Grades 8-11

When Perry's parents decided to invite an exchange student into their home Perry was ecstatic. He couldn't wait to meet the hot girl who would be sharing their home. Gobi, their Lithuanian exchange student, is anything but hot. Her thick glasses, thicker accent and old lady clothes say it all...Gobi is a clueless nerd.

Perry's life spins out of control when his father orders him to take Gobi to the prom. Perry's hopes to get through prom unnoticed are dashed when he sees Gobi's prom attire...a sack of a dress AND a kerchief.

He's not surprised when he and Gobi are harassed and have to leave the prom early. He is surprised when Gobi insists they drive to a certain bar in New York City. Once inside, Gobi abandons him at a table. He doesn't recognize the sexy woman in the slinky black dress until she walks up to him and tells him to go get the car...it is Gobi.

He is even less prepared for the bloody body that comes flying through the bar's front window. Or the gun that Gobi presses to his head when she orders him to drive away.

Perry began the evening hoping Gobi wouldn't embarrass him. Now he's just hoping to survive the night.

Check availability of this book

More books by Joe Schreiber

Other tales of dangerous girls include:

I'd Tell You I Love You, But Then I'd Have to Kill You by Ally Carter and

Live and Let Shop by Michael Spradlin

YS Book Level:

8th Grade

High Schoolers

YS Locations:

JY Fiction

YS Reviewers:

SJS

YS Genres:

Adventure

---

Source URL: <http://www.hplibrary.org/kids/reviews/aurevoircrazyeuropeanchick?page=6>