

Readers' Advisory Services

The Readers' Advisors provide personal assistance in the selection of reading materials based on the patron's interests.

They also provide instruction in the use of the computer catalog and other information sources in the Adult Service Department.

Readers' Advisors will place titles on hold in the computer for library users.

The Readers' Advisors will help library users locate materials in the collection or will request materials from other libraries on behalf of patrons through the interlibrary loan service.

The Readers' Advisors also lead book discussions, and give book talks and reviews.

The readers' blog offers new book reviews and comments about reading.
