

April 5 2013

Roger Ebert - His Favorite Films

Roger Ebert lost his battle with cancer on April 4th, 2013.

He was a screenwriter who wrote several celebrated films. He was a Pulitzer Prize winning film critic who raised the standards of journalism and criticism to new heights. He will be missed.

Beneath is a brief sampling of some of his favorite films. The library has these films within our collection for you to enjoy. See the complete list here.

- 12 Angry Men
- 400 Blows
- 2001: A Space Odyssey
- Aguirre, the Wrath of God
- Annie Hall
- The Battleship Potemkin
- Bicycle Thief
- Un Chien Andalou
- Citizen Kane
- Departures
- The Godfather
- Hoop Dreams
- Jaws
- LA Confidential
- Pan's Labyrinth
- Psycho
- The Shining
- Taxi Driver
- El Topo
- Vertigo
- Beyond the Valley of the Dolls (co-wrote the screenplay)

AV Blog Entry Type:

AV Blog

Source URL: <https://www.hplibrary.org/av/roger-ebert-his-favorite-films>