

Stained Glass Panel

Library Art

Designed by Tricia Takata

Executed by Annette and Craig Corbin

Stained Glass Panel, 1995

Stained glass

Framed: 28 $\frac{3}{4}$ x 40 $\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Gift of family and friends of Carol Muir in her memory

Tricia Takata, a North Shore School District 112 art teacher, designed the stained glass panel to reflect nature and books, the interests of Carol Muir, a longtime employee in the Library's Youth Services Department. Annette and Craig Corbin of Mountain Light Glassworks in Highland Park created the panel which was dedicated in December 1995.
